Returns Disappointing For Scoreboard, Solicitors Fall Short Of $1,800 Goal

By Wilbur Flachman
Reaction of Wartburg students to the 1958 Student Body Project has been termed negative by project chairman Bill Jurgens, senior.

Four solicitors had completed their calls by Thursday night and a total of only slightly more than one hundred and eighty dollars had been turned in up to that time.
Goal for the project, which is supposed to end today, was set at $1,800. Last year's Student Body members contributed $2,700 in a like period of time.

Possible Resentment
Jurgens stated that the slow reaction has probably been caused by a slight resentment of some groups against the purchase of scoreboards for the gymnasium as the '58 project.
"But the scoreboard won the vote", he explained, "Students are expected to co-operate even though their choice didn't win."

Sales Slow
A man with a similar headache is pops chairman Don Hamilton. Student Body reaction was what Hamilton called "very poor" as far as ticket sales for the Harry James Concert are concerned. Approximately four hundred and fifty ducats were sold for the April 14th event to college students before they went on sale to the public.

Elsewhere on the political front, Student Body President John Adix reported that the campaign for a public telephone in the Student Union has advanced one more step. The Student Union Council approved the Student Senate's recommendation and passed it on to the administration for its stamp.

No Extra Vacation
At Monday's Student Senate meeting, senators turned thumbs down on a petition handed them that called for dismissal of Tuesday's classes following Easter vacation.

A letter was read to the senators that was written by United States Congressman Fred Schwengel, Iowa Republican. Schwengel is preparing to submit a bill before the house that will call for federal aid to parents with sons and daughters in college.

"The letter is posted in the Student Senate room. All students should drop in and read it," urged Adix.

Election Time
Also, Adix pointed to the fact that in two weeks it would be time for primary elections in student government, and that students should be thinking seriously of selecting candidates.

"Extraglobal Extravaganza", this year's Student Body carnival promises to do more for the space age than the Vanguard and Explorer combined. According to carnival head Norm Litzner, sophomore, there are countless features and attractions to be seen next Saturday in Knights Gym.

Among the ever-popular concessions will be Alpha House's mouse race and "A little Munich on the Moon," sponsored by Hans Sachs.

Key Top Article
Billed as top article for the auction is a key to a girls dormitory which could turn us back into the atomic age with more devastating results than the H-bomb. Also on the sale bill is one slightly used television set and numerous meals and picnics. Seventy cakes will be waiting for the cake walk, one of the most popular events of the carnival.

Housing units have selected their candidates for king and queen. It will cost one penny per vote to elect the knight "man of the moon" and a Wartburg coed to share the desolate spot with him.

Library Forces 4 To Go

Four Wartburg students will move their living room next week to make a place for learning room.

Trailers of Larry Raper, Wayne Kuethe, Ted Ehrenfried and Darrell Childs will move to the back part of the present trailer court to enable workers to begin construction on the new library.

Present plans do not call for trailer moving to the new court site until next year at this time, when landscaping is scheduled for the proposed library.

Plasterers are now at work in Clinton Hall, new men's dormitory. The building will be completed this spring. Landscaping and room furnishing is set for the coming summer according to the college business manager H. C. Engelbrecht.

Librarian Added

Mrs. Margary Gregory has been engaged as cataloger and assistant librarian, beginning July 1. She will be awarded her masters degree in library science at the University of Denver, Denver, Colo., this June.

Movie Tonight!

"My Sister Eileen" will be the featured attraction at the campus movie this evening at 7:30 in the Little Theater. Starring in the film will be Janet Leigh. Admission is 25 cents.

NOT IN FAYETTE?

They Study Or They Work

By Marsha Starck

Are you getting a cut of the nearly fifty grand being doled out to students by Wartburg College?

Chances are better than 50-50 that you are, for this is the amount being paid in wages to more than half of the Student Body employed by the college. Last year the figure was $47,188, an increase of $10,000 over the preceding year.

The student payroll comprises approximately 1/25 of the total amount—one and a quarter million dollars—spent by the college each year.

"Wages for student employment is a major item in our expense budget," explained Herb Engelbrecht, director of student employment and college business manager. "We try to spread the money throughout the Student Body."

He estimated that about four hundred students are currently employed on the campus. Each student averages two hours a day at his job which over the course of a semester makes a large contribution toward the payment of his expense attending college.

"We have jobs of every size, shape and color," chuckled 'Uncle Herb'. "The cafeteria is the major employer, but just walk to any place on campus and you can find a student at work."

Jobs range from doing laundry for the athletic department to pasting stamps. Each dormitory floor has a student janitor and most of the campus offices and departments find student help valuable.

The student employment service keeps an ad in the local paper and townspeople often call for workers. The local merchants and Chamber of Commerce are generous in helping to place students in jobs.

As the bright sun poured in his west office, Engelbrecht remarked, "This is the time of year that storm windows have to be taken off and leaves have to be raked. We'll probably be putting students on these jobs soon."

Although no official records are available, approximately one hundred fifty Wartburg students find work off the campus. Some of their jobs include clerking, managing motels, typing, baby-sitting and house cleaning.

Engelbrecht explained that the "self help" system operates quite effectively. A student hears of a job or knows of an opening somewhere and then passes the information on to one of his friends.

When questioned about the quality of student work, Engelbrecht said, "I feel that our student help is just as effective as regular hired help would be. A student usually wants the job before he takes it and is willing to cooperate and get the work done."

Engelbrecht explained that there hasn't been much pressure for an increase this year in student wages. He predicted that wage increases would probably be stressed as usual in the Student Body presidential candidate platforms.

During the depression years, the federal government initiated a plan called National Youth Administration. Students were paid 25 cents per hour for part-time work. Staffs and departments were supplemented and a shop department was added to build and repair furniture.

Dean of Faculty John Chellevold, who was director of student employment during those years, recalled, "Students often refused to work downtown, because merchants were paying only 20 cents per hour."

Next time you see a student serving up mashed potatoes in the cafeteria, raking campus lawns or checking out books in the library, you'll know that he is sharing in a fifty thousand dollar business that is making it possible for him to go to school.

Wartburg Will Share In 2 Alcoa Grants

Wartburg has been named one of seven colleges sharing a $4,500 grant from the Alcoa Foundation, Pres. C. H. Becker announced this week.

Other Iowa schools are St. Ambrose, Buena Vista, Iowa Wesleyan, Parsons and Dubuque. Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., also shared in the gift.

The Alcoa Foundation also gave $1,500 to the Iowa College Foundation of which Wartburg is a member. The money will be distributed among member schools.

Religious Groups To Give 'Sign Of Jonah' Drama

"The Sign of Jonah" will be presented for convocation and chapel April 1. Religious organizations on campus are sponsoring this contemporary drama through the efforts of the Religious Activities Committee.

Written in Germany by Guenter Rutenborn, the play was originally a judgment pronounced on the German people. But the 1953 performance, in English, for the Interlochen Ashram of the Lutheran Student Association, earmarked the play as "a voice to be heard in America as well as in Germany." Another performance by the Union Theological Seminary in 1957 confirmed this thought.

Theme for "The Sign of Jonah" is taken from the Holy Bible, Luke 11:28-32: "This generation is an evil generation; it seeks a sign, but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of Jonah. For as Jonah became a sign to the men of Ninevah, so will the sons of man be to this generation . . . And behold, something greater than Jonah is here . . ."

Cast members for the April production were announced last Wednesday by the director, Vernon Lestrud of the Wartburg Speech Dept.

In the legal role of the Judge is Roger Schneider, sophomore; Michael, Harley Joens, junior; Gabriel, Howard Schroeder, sophomore; Man in the Street, Allen Lange, junior; Merchant, John Goeman, sophomore.

Jonah, the namesake of the play, will be portrayed by Bob Rosenberg, freshman. Joan Pape, junior, will play one of the feminine leads as the Queen, while sophomore Kathryn Koob will be a Woman in the Street. Prompter for the group will be Evon Wick, senior.

Book Of Job To Be Read

Drama in a religious vein, will be the keynote of next week's convocations. Tuesday, a dramatic reading of the Book of Job will be offered by Louise Jorgensen of Copenhagen, Denmark. Thursday, Dr. Theodore Braun will give a talk and show a film on his missionary work in New Guinea.

Miss Jorgensen has given over one thousand five hundred readings in Denmark and has been a guest reciter at universities in Birmingham, Berlin, Vienna and Oslo, as well as other institutions throughout England, Austria, Switzerland, Norway and Sweden.

The Department of Education of the government of Denmark has now enabled her to visit a number of colleges and seminaries in America as a cultural ambassador of good will. Miss Jorgensen's recital of Job has been unanimously praised by the press.

It is recommended that students prepare for this recitation by carefully reading the Book of Job for its religious and artistic value, according to the Rev. Edwin Schick, college chaplain.

Thursday's visitors, Dr. and Mrs. Braun, are medical missionaries in New Guinea, now on furlough.

Litter-Bug Lodger
-Campus Alerted

Yes, Virginia,
There is a campus litter-bug. It is here in our midst as well as on television and in our nation's parks and by-ways.
I have never seen this bug, Virginia, but I know that it exists. It exists as surely as Outfly comes twice a year. Its tracks are as obvious as those of a campus cutter on an April morning.
Perhaps you have seen evidences of this awful bug. It seems to delight in leaving dixie cups, gum wrappers, crushed cigarettes and orange peelings in conspicuous places. Sometimes it even burns the tables and couches in our Student Union.
If this litter-bug were consistent, we might be able to exterminate it. But it seems to take special pains in passing unnoticed. Sometimes a whole roomful of students are unable to detect its presence.
In case you still doubt its existence, Virginia, I must tell you that visitors to our campus have seen this bug's wake and are often the ones who most remember that it is still around.
Many campaigns have been started to stop the litter-bug, but none of them have succeeded thus far. It is sad that the only ones who have been able to erase this bug's foul tracks are a few conscientious Student Body members and those in charge of cleaning our Student Union.
Unless a new brand of students comes to our college, there seems to be no way in which this pest can be exterminated. The older students have become used to this bug and do not seem to mind its presence.
True, we are all guilty of helping this litter-bug to exist, but we as students are also the only ones who can put an end to its presence.
So, tell your friends about this bug, Virginia, and remember to show them some of the places it has been. Go into our Student Union or follow the campus walks, and you will find plenty of evidence to support your argument.
Yes, Virginia, there is a litter-bug as surely as there are semester exams, and unless we begin to do something about it, we could all become infected with its bite.

COLLEGE POLL

Students See Democrat For Future President

Minneapolis — (ACP) — According to a recent poll of students in many colleges across the United States, a large majority of the people feel the Democrats are more likely to win the 1960 presidential elections. Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion asked the question:
'As of right now, do you think the Democrats or the Republicans have a better chance of winning the 1960 presidential elections?'
to a sample of the American college population. Results indicate that a substantially higher proportion of coeds feel Democrats have a better chance.
Eighty-four per cent of them, as opposed to 72 per cent of the college men, feel Democratic victory will be forthcoming. Almost equal proportions of men and women favor Republican chances in 1960, but a substantially higher proportion of men were undecided. Overall results are as follows:
Men Women Total
Democrats have better chance 72 84 78
Republicans have better chance 12 11 11
Don't Know/Undecided 16 5 11
A University of Nebraska coed feels 'People want and need a change' and consequently decides the Democrats have a better chance in 1960.
'The nation is associating the economic trend with the Republican administration' was the reason given by a Wayne State University senior for his reply that 1960 will probably see a new Democratic administration.
A sophomore coed from Queens College agrees that the Democrats have a better chance because 'of the present recession,' and a senior coed from Wayne State also joins the many students who felt economic difficulties have put the Republicans in a bad light.
'The past years of 'Republican prosperity' should insure a Democratic victory in 1960' was her observation.
Another line of reasoning also became apparent in the comments on answers to the question. Many of the students interviewed based their conclusions of a 1960 Democratic victory on potential candidates. A Lake Forest College freshman's opinion stems from a possible Republican ticket. He notes that Eisenhower cannot run again, and 'feels Nixon is unpopular.' A senior at St. Mary's University, looked at the other party's possible candidates for his conclusion.
His comment: 'The young Democrats look promising.'
Several of the students interviewed gave general discontent with the Republican administration as their reason for feeling the Democrats will win in 1960, but only a very small proportion indicated they felt the president's three illnesses were a factor.

Critic Finds Chorale Popular

By Ed Schaley
'Wartburg College Artist Series Presents,' probably the most popular concert of the season — last Tuesday evening, in the presence of the Roger Wagner Chorale.

Describing the variety of his program, director Roger Wagner likened the mixture to a full course meal, at which the dessert is no less than the steak.

Garnishing its 'steak' with rare spices of interpretation, the Chorale presented a series of secular and religious numbers, ranging from Bach to the lesser-established Bloch.

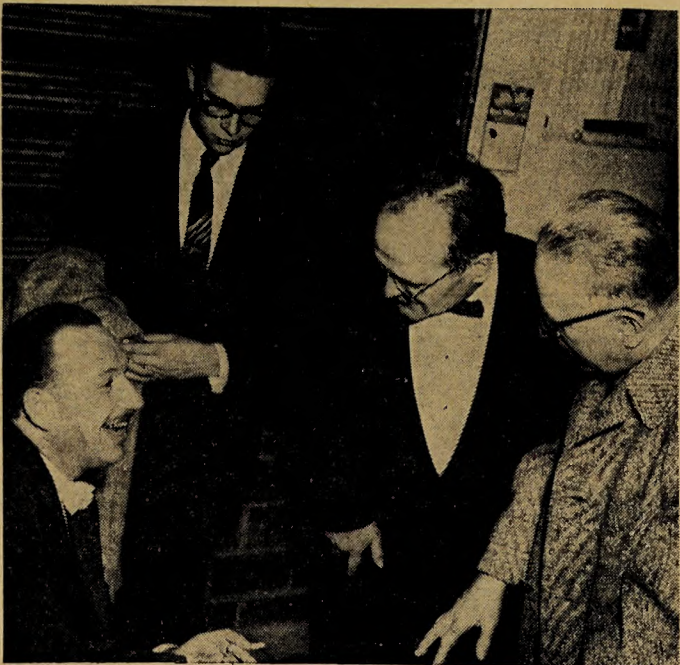

English translations of most of the works were employed to the best advantage possible, thus alleviating much of the heaviness of the concert.

The audience responded energetically at the completion of Ernest Bloch's 'Sanctification,' though it must be noted that it was also intermission time.

Main courses having been completed, the Wagner group delighted the Knights Gym audience with lighter renditions of western, folk and musical comedy numbers.

Amidst the clap-happiness of some three thousand series patrons, several encores and curtaincalls were required of the group.

Backstage, a group of tired,

but seemingly pleased choir members and director engaged themselves in signing autographs and receiving compliments from well-wishers before departing.

Currently in the midst of their third national tour, Wagner's choristers have been playing to large crowds all the way.

At Salt Lake, 6,000 patrons visited the Tabernacle to listen to them.

Composed of young, professional, musicians, the Roger Wagner Chorale seems destined to enjoy much international popularity, whether on Capitol record releases or on live performances as witnessed here.

by Bob Loslo

The word for the day is 'Down with the walking shorts ban.' There are some girls who are opposed to walking shorts and then there are some with good-looking legs.

How about this for a lucky coincidence — the band and Castle Singers go on tour and spring begins the same day. Miss Wolff will now write 'pretty vague' on my copy, but anyone who has ever gone on tour will know what I'm talking about.

Wartburg men can be thankful that, for the most part, the chemise dress hasn't spread to this campus. There's something aesthetically disturbing about going out with a girl who tries to look like a hundred-pound sack of potatoes.

There's one number in the Singers musical that will look somewhat different on tour than it did this week when some of the faculty watched rehearsal. Reason? — the costumes will be sewed for the tour instead of merely pinned together like some of them were last Tuesday.

In case you are wondering if Wartburg has adopted a forgive-and-forget policy, wonder no longer. The man speaking for the Science Club Banquet is a different Dr. Carr.

It seems you have to have a passport to get into the Pub House. The Wisconsinites have taken over. They have a map of Wisconsin, a Braves pennant and a complete Braves baseball schedule on the wall. But the rest of us try to keep them humble by reminding them of how they fared in Big Ten competition this year.

If the first day of spring is any indication, March came in like a lion and will go out like a lamb — white.

If you use the Loslo-approved method of useless and irrelevant statistics you could conclude that Wartburg is better than Bradley. Here's how it goes: Wartburg beat St. Olaf, St. Olaf beat Coe, Coe beat Portland and Portland beat Bradley. Unfortunately, the ball just doesn't bounce that way.

Matmen Take 6th In NAIA

Wrestling Squad Finishes Strong

Wartburg's three man entry finished sixth in a field of 23 wrestling teams in the first national NAIA small-college grappling tournament held at Mankato, Minn., last weekend.

Picking up 19 points, the Jomen were represented by heavyweight Bruce Brye, sophomore, who finished second in his division, 115-pound Norm Friedrichs, sophomore, and 130-pound Dick Chellevoid, junior, both of whom finished fourth.

Brye, the Knight's top scorer this year, was pinned in the finals in 4:05 by Kubsof, Mankato Teachers, to take second place. He gained the finals by gaining a fall in 8:56 over DeFrench, Finlay College, in the first round and by getting a 4-1 decision over McHugh, St. Cloud, in the semi-finals.

Finishes Fourth

Friedrichs, 115 pound grappler, was pinned in the consolation finals in 1:39 by Guldberg, Iowa State Teachers, to pick up fourth place. He defeated Melhose, South Dakota State, 4-0 in the first round, lost 9-4 to Morgan, Indiana Central, in the quarter-finals, and defeated Taranelli, Bemidji State, 8-2 in the semi-finals.

Chellevoid, 130 pound wrestler, opened his campaign with a 5-0 decision over Sespach, South Dakota State and a 4-0 decision over Ziska, Bemidji, before losing 6-4 to Sharp, Mankato, in the semi-finals. He dropped a 1-0 decision to Semetes, Eastern Illinois, in the consolation finals to finish fourth.

Johansen Pleased

Head coach Norm Johansen, newly-elected secretary of the NAIA wrestling coaches, marked the Knight's showing as the high point of their season. The Jomen had a 5-4 record during the regular season. Brye's runner-up finish is the highest any Wartburg grappler has ever finished in a national tournament.

In a field of twenty-three, nineteen teams scored points with Mankato grabbing first with 97 points. Other schools finishing ahead of Wartburg were: Iowa State Teachers, 69 counters; Northern Illinois, 45; South Dakota State, 30 and St. Cloud, 20.

Luther College finished fourteenth and was the only other Iowa Conference school to participate.

All-Conference For Adix

John Adix was recently named to the all-conference first team, according to Dr. Elmer Hertel, secretary of the Iowa Conference. Mel Frahm, senior, and John Tuecke, sophomore, were selected honorable mention.

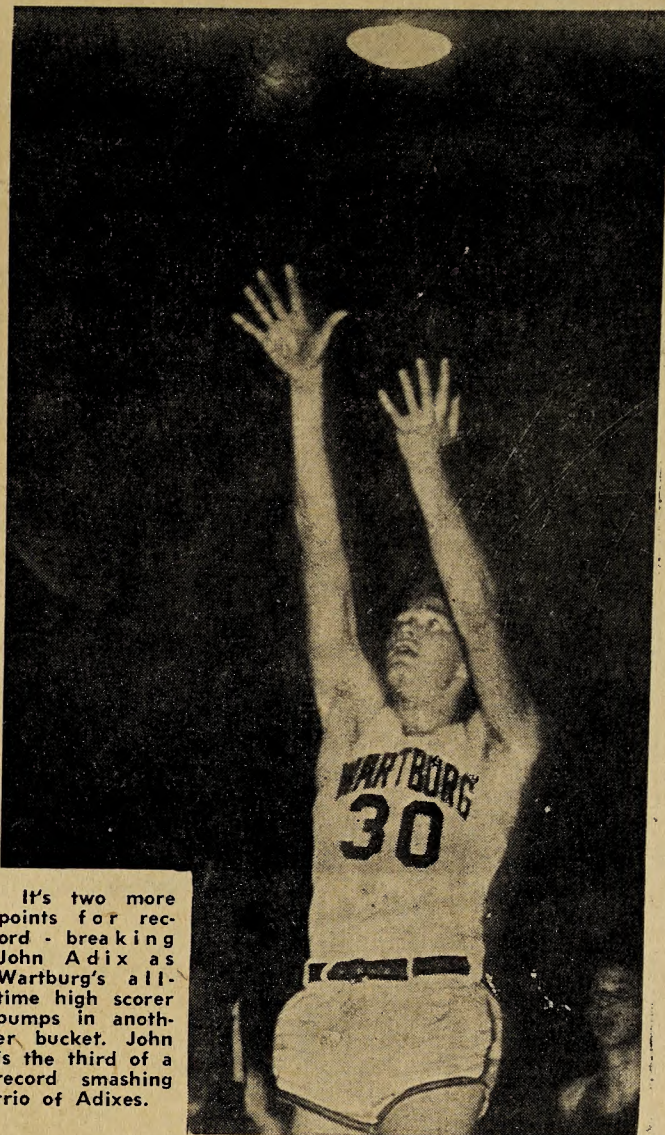

Three centers and two forwards made up the first team. Ron Jarms, Upper Iowa, Virgil Dykstra, Central, and Don Gibbs, Iowa Wesleyan, were picked by the conference coaches to fill the center and forward spots respectively.

Adix and Wayne Sawyer, Upper Iowa, were named to the guard positions to fill out the squad. Gibbs and Sawyer were the only players to repeat as starters on the fictitious team. All are seniors.

Adix was named as the W. Club's Athlete of the Month. Picked by the coaches for his play on the bard courts, Adix grabbed the honor for the second time this year. He was also picked honorary team captain by his teammates for the past season.

More honors came to Adix this week when the Associated Press announced he had received honorable mention on the AP's small college All-American team. Wayne Sawyer of Upper Iowa was the only other Iowa Conference player to receive any AP recognition.

It's two more points for record-breaking John Adix as Wartburg's all-time high scorer pumps in another bucket. John is the third of a record smashing trio of Adixes.

New Record Set

John Adix now holds the Wartburg basketball scoring record.

The NAIA All-American candidate scored 29 points in the two-game NCAA post-season basketball tournament to break the old scoring record of 1,338 held by Art Margheim, guard, who graduated last year. By dumping in 14 counters against the University of South Dakota and 15 against Gustavus Adolphus, Adix moved his total output up to 1,342 during his four-year career.

Student Body Pres. Adix grabbed a starting berth on the Knight squad Dec. 4, 1954, and hasn't been moved out since, playing in a total of 102 straight games.

Versatile Player

He has played at guard, forward and center during the four years with his best effort coming against Luther two years ago. He cracked the nets for 31 points in a 110-97 victory for the Axmen.

Adix scored 283 counters in his freshman year for a 10.8 average, 351 points for a 14.0 average as a sophomore and 330 markers last year for a 12.2 average.

Cage Leader

While in the starting line-up, Adix has led the Knights to one conference championship and four straight post-season tournament bids. He was named All-Conference this season.

Two other Adixes, Bill with 1,179 points and Bob with 1,045 counters, belong to Wartburg's 1,000 club. They and John are cousins.

Cotta Takes IM Crown

Cotta, protecting an early third-quarter lead, nosed out a valiant Vollmer quintet, 49-40, in the IM tournament championship basketball game, Thursday night.

Grossmann III won the consolation game, as they eased by Bolin's team, 48-43, in an equally close match.

High for the champion Raiders were Denny Dickman and Charles Maahs, each with 15 tallies. Cotta now entertains hopes of an intercollegiate tiff with arch-rival Luther, to be played in the near future.

Final matches of the IM wrestling schedule are now set for Monday night, with four teams still battling for tournament honors. With semifinal action completed, the team standings are: Cotta 10, Grossmann III 9, North Hall 8, Off-campus 8, and Grossmann I and Basement 7. No defending champions remain from the field of 46 enthusiasts.

The chess, ping-pong and bridge tourneys are underway.

O'Connor To Talk At Cage Banquet

Bucky O'Connor, head basketball coach at the State University of Iowa, will be the featured speaker at a basketball banquet to be held in the Riviera Ballroom, Janesville, April 1.

Sponsored by the Waverly Chamber of Commerce, Lions and Rotary, the event will honor the Waverly High's basketball team and the Wartburg cage squad.

Coaches and cheerleaders will also be feted at the banquet.

Open to the public, the $1.75 tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, the high school and the college's public relations department. Festivities begin at 6:30 p.m.

Knights Grab Third; Beat Gusties 83-73

Wartburg College captured third place in the small college NCAA regional tournament at Vermillion, S. D., by smashing Gustavus Adolphus 83-73 March 8. The Knights led at the half 41-38, and then took commanding lead early in the second half to win going away.

Both teams were hampered by injuries and heavy fouling, but the Knight's superior bench strength provided the winning margin. Reserve forward Gil Wessel sparked the Knights as he slashed the nets for 24 points to lead all scorers.

The victory gave the Knights a final 16-9 record for the season.

No Bowling

Wartburg's intramural bowling league was forced to cut off action for the rest of the year, it was announced this week by Fred Jaspers, intramural chairman.

Lack of cooperation was cited as the reason for the shutdown. It was also disclosed that it is probable there won't be any league next year either.

Jaspers said that only 14 students showed up last week to participate in the eight-team loop.

"It is impossible to run a league on that basis," he said.

Annuals Near Deadlines

WITH DEADLINE MET, Fortress editor Len Flachman (r.) instructs associate editors Phyllis Haglund and Larry Everett in elements of proof-reading.

Fortress editor Leonard Flachman and Castle editor, Larry Achorn, both seniors, are putting their staffs to work on the final touches before publication.

Wartburg's yearbook will have a different type of layout this year, according to Flachman. There will be 184 pages, which is usual, but more of these pages will be devoted to campus life and to bigger individual pictures. Also featured in the book are sketches by artist John Solem, junior.

Besides a change in name, The Castle, a literary magazine, will have from 64-80 pages. The cover for the magazine is also being done by Solem. Editor Achorn remarks that this year's publication will contain brief, biographical sketches of all contributors.

Printer for both publications is the Waverly Publishing Co. Definite deadline for Castle material has been set for April 1, while the final deadline for all Fortress material was March 15.

Plans for issuing The Castle to students and purchasers center around May 1, while the Fortress is expected to come from the printers about May 15.

Faculty, Staff At Meets

Faculty and staff members are in the news this week as meetings and conventions call them from across the state and around the nation. President C. H. Becker and Dean of Faculty John O. Chellevoid will attend a meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago Monday through Friday.

Workshops for presidents and deans of the North Central Association of Liberal Arts Education will be held. The North Central Deans Association will also meet Wednesday.

Dr. Chellevoid, Dr. Elmer Hertel, Biology Department, and Ray Norheim, History Department, attended the sixth annual General Education Conference at Drake University, Des Moines, Friday.

Next Sunday Dr. Becker will be speaking at Leola, S.D., on behalf of the college. Today, he and Dr. Chellevoid are attending the centennial celebration of Iowa State College, Ames.

Miss Mai Hogan, Music Department, will attend the Music Educators National Conference in Los Angeles, Calif., March 21-25.

Dr. Carr To Appear At Science Banquet

"Earth Satellites" will be the topic when Dr. P. H. Carr speaks at the annual Science Club banquet Tuesday evening at 6:30. To be held at Carver's, the dinner is open to all Science Club members and their guests.

Dr. Carr is professor of physics at Iowa State College, Ames. He has done extensive work and made numerous observations on the subject of satellites and outer space.

Couple Engaged

Meredith Stuhmer, sophomore from Alma, Neb., is engaged to Paul Fuchs, junior from Tripoli. No definite plans have been made.

MENC Sings At TC

Wartburg's student chapter of the Music Educators National Conference will present a program for Iowa State Teachers' College MENC chapter, March 31 in Cedar Falls. Early English madrigals in addition to vocal and piano solos will be performed by the Wartburg group.

13 Accept Jobs In Three States As Instructors

Thirteen graduating elementary and secondary education students have been placed for the coming school year, according to Miss Mattie Harms, placement bureau.

Georgia Mikes and Lois Rueber are employed as second grade teachers at Monona, whereas Judith Rieniets will be a first grade instructor. Fourth grade teacher Donna Camp has signed a contract to teach in Postville. Arlene Horneke, third grade, will be employed in Milwaukee, Wis.

Marilyn Hoops will teach the third, fourth and fifth grades in a Christian Day School in Deshler, Nebr. The Beloit, Wis., school system will include two elementary teachers from Wartburg—Beverly Thiem, kindergarten, and Ted Oberheu who will teach a group of exceptional children.

LET'S MEET FRIENDS

Tour Calls, But Column (Like Show) Goes On!

By Kathi

Hi!

You know, there is no justice. Here I go on Castle Singers tour and I don't even get a vacation from this column. Slave-driver Kurtz!

Bible Discussion groups were especially lively last Sunday. Herb Hafermann had a Jehovah's Witness speak to the group. The discussion waxed hot and heavy. At any rate, this Sunday, Herb and Intern Glen Gronlund will lead the group in the attempt to clarify what was learned. That's St. Paul's Parish Hall at 9 a.m.

Herb also mentioned that Mission Fellowship is meeting Monday, 7:15, in Wartburg Hall Lounge.

Monday also finds Vollmer House entertaining Wartburg Players. They are going to try to do scenes from the book "Heavenly Discourses." Pres. Becker Louis that is, also said something to the effect that he would be looking for recruits for the carnival. Little Theater is naturally the place and the time, 7:30 p.m.

Lutheran Student Association will meet in the Faculty Lounge Saturday evening at 7. The Rev. Homer Larsen, Cedar Falls, will speak on "Dynamic Personality of Jesus Christ".

Stop the presses! Alpha Phi Gamma meets Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Pub House. According to Harold Kurtz the meeting is vitally important. The coming press banquet will be discussed also.

The program isn't planned yet, but Camera Club will be meeting next Thursday, regardless. It will be the usual time, 7:30 p.m., and place, Luther Hall 203.

Better not plan to go home next weekend. The carnival is coming to Knight's Gym . . . all-school carnival that is.

Chi Rho members had also better reserve April 13. The banquet is scheduled for that Sunday evening. The theme will be "Serving Christ and Fellowmen". The Rev. Henry W. Opperman, Des Moines, will be the speaker.

Until next week.

Bye

It was sad...

when that great ship went down and the last thing to leave the sinking ship was a bottle of Coca-Cola. That's because all hands stuck to Coke to the end. Now there's popularity! That's the kind of loyalty the sparkling lift, the good taste of Coke engenders. Man the lifeboats, have a Coke!
